New Palliative Care Portal

The CareSearch portal and interactive website is a federal health department initiative which aims to be Australia's major source of palliative care information.

CareSearch is designed to provide evidence-based best practice for help professionals, help patients and carers talk about death and dying and support informed planning and decision making.

The portal includes practical information, and specific resources for nurses, GPs and allied health professionals relevant to a variety of settings including the home.

It also has information tailored to issues relevant to patients and carers including living with illness, finding services, communicating with palliative teams and culturally appropriate care for diverse groups.

Update – CHSP Working Group and survey

On 13 August 2021, the department met with the Commonwealth Home Support Programme (CHSP) 2022-23 Extension Working Group. The meeting discussed:

- outcomes of the CHSP survey
- payment in arrears options such as services delivered based on actual costs, services delivered at a standard unit price and monthly block funding based on a standard unit price
- the National Unit Pricing Policy.

The CHSP survey closed on 2 August 2021. A total of 800 responses (or 57% response rate) was received, with good coverage from all Service Types and Aged Care Planning Regions. The survey has given the department a good insight into the issues moving to payment in arrears. Specifically, the need to consider the fixed costs of delivering services, an organisation's IT and their ability to track funding at the individual client level, and service provider cashflow/reserves. The key findings of this survey will be published on the Department of Health website.

In an update on the development of the National Unit Pricing Policy, ACIL Allen Consulting reported they are looking at the relationship between current unit price ranges and a variety of factors such as actual cost, reporting issues, unit definitions, location and client base.

AIHW Report: Dementia in Australia 2021

Dementia is a significant and growing health and aged care issue in Australia that has a substantial impact on the health and quality of life of people with the condition, as well as for their family and friends. This online report provides a comprehensive picture of dementia in Australia, including the latest statistics on dementia prevalence, burden of disease, deaths, expenditure, as well as the use of health and aged care services among people with dementia and information on carers of people with dementia.

Ageism Awareness Day

The first Ageism Awareness Day will be launched at 10am (AEST) on 1 October with an online launch event, and we'd love for you to join us. This is a great opportunity to be involved even if you are not able to host or attend a morning tea, as you'll be able to log-in and participate in the Ageism Awareness Day 2021 online launch from home.

What's age got to do with it?

This report identifies stereotypes, attitudes and beliefs about age that prevail in Australia, and captures some of the ways in which people in Australia understand and experience their impacts.

The research contributes to an increased community understanding of the age-based myths, stereotypes and misconceptions about younger adult, middle-aged and older Australians, and encourages a wider conversation on ageism in an intergenerational context.

The deliberate focus is on attitudes about age, rather than the resulting behaviours that can lead to age discrimination. The project involved a national online survey and focus groups.

The data builds a clear picture of the patterns of ageism across the lifespan in Australia, with 90% of survey respondents agreeing that ageism exists. Over half the survey respondents agreed that making jokes about age is more socially acceptable than making jokes about things like race or gender and two-thirds said it affected people across the lifespan.

2020 Aged Care Workforce Census

This report presents the findings of the 2020 Aged Care Workforce Census (Census) conducted by the Australian Government Department of Health. It follows four previous similar reports on workforce data in 2003, 2007, 2012 and 2016.

Mandatory COVID-19 vaccination reporting requirements for CHSP and NATSIFACP providers

Commonwealth Home Support Programme (CHSP) and National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Flexible Aged Care Program (NATSIFACP) home care providers will need to report and provide weekly updates every Tuesday on the COVID-19 vaccination status of the aged care workforce.

Starting on Tuesday 21 September 2021, all CHSP and NATSIFACP home care providers will be required to keep records of workforce COVID-19 vaccinations.

On Tuesday 5 October 2021, all CHSP and NATSIFACP home care providers will commence mandatory, weekly reporting via the My Aged Care portal for providers.

The new reporting requires CHSP and NATSIFACP home care providers to record de-identified data at a service level on the:

- total number of workers at each aged care service, and of those,
- the number of workers at each service who have received a single dose of a COVID-19 vaccine
- the number of workers at each service who have received all required doses of a COVID-19 vaccine.

If CHSP providers require administrative assistance to undertake this COVID-19 mandatory reporting requirement, they can submit an application through the CHSP Emergency Support for COVID-19 grant opportunity \(GO3877\).

Further information can be found in the updated CHSP Manual, the Fact Sheet – Guidance for in-home and community aged care providers and on the department's website.

Managing Mandatory Vaccine Policy for NSW-based Community Organisations – Justice Connect's on demand webinar

Mandatory vaccination policies are a hot topic right now and keeping workers and clients safe is the number one priority. However, there’s a complex maze of legal requirements to navigate when it comes to mandating employees to be vaccinated - like public health orders, WHS obligations, as well as anti-discrimination and industrial relations laws. Justice Connect’s free on demand webinar explains the issues in ways that are easy to understand.

The Fair Work Ombudsman and SafeWork Australia have also published useful resources:

Retain Volunteers - 26 October 2011, Online

The Centre for Volunteering Cost: $0-$145.

Does your organisation struggle to retain volunteers or do they need to review their approach to retaining volunteers? Volunteer retention is one of the most challenging aspects of working in the volunteering sector. Whether you are a Volunteer Manager or working in a Volunteer Involving Organisation creating strong volunteer programs through effective retention is so important for the productivity, stability and culture of your organisation; not to mention it keeps costs down. Regular evaluation of your organisation’s volunteer strategy and practices is an essential part of effective volunteer management.

It has never been more important to give client's quick and easy access to services

We have had reports of unnecessary delay in getting services in place. Client access is impeded by the mishandling of referrals. Please only accept referrals where you can provide services. Clients can face unnecessary wait times if you do not respond correctly.

Check your details on My Aged Care Service Finder and make sure that your information is correct and that your footprint is not overstated. Do not say you provide services in towns where you do not operate.

You can edit and submit changes to your organisation's details by logging into the service provider portal.

Commonwealth Governments fact sheet on payment in arrears and unit costing

This fact sheet has been developed to provide CHSP providers with information on future reforms, payment in arrears and unit prices.

Create a COVID-19 check-in card

The COVID-19 check-in card is a hard-copy (printed) card with a unique QR code that contains your registered contact details. When you enter a COVID Safe business, a staff member scans your card and your visit to the premises is electronically recorded. If the business device is unable to read your QR code, the staff member will enter your details manually into the online webform.

The card provides an alternative check-in method for customers who don't have smartphones and/or those who are not comfortable using the Service NSW webform. Once you've created your card you can have it posted to you or download a printable version immediately.

If you lose the card, or your contact details change, you simply create a new card.

Note: This check-in method is only available at businesses that have a QR compatible device. It is not mandatory for businesses to accept COVID-19 check-in cards.
